Career history

Ms. Georgiou is an active volunteer at the European Youth Parliament (EYP), a peer-to-peer educational programme that empowers young people from across Europe to be open-minded, active citizens. She was selected as one of the 25 young people from 20 European countries to take the role of a Young Ambassador on the Future of Europe, as a part of the Global Climate Crisis working group. Her role in the project includes summarising and structuring the outputs related to Climate and Energy topics from the events held in the frame of the “Young Opinions on the Future of Europe” project and “Power Shifts - Reflecting Europe’s Energy” project, as well as the opinions gathered through the Youth Poll on the Future of Europe.

Topics related to climate and energy are some of the core issues discussed in EYP events. Among the EYP events she has attended so far, Ms. Georgiou was a Chairperson at the Milano 2021 - 92nd International Session of the European Youth Parliament which was held under the theme ‘Circular sustainability: rethinking today, shaping tomorrow’. The event provided a platform for in-depth discussions on economic, environmental, and social sustainability, with each of the discussion topics of the event being directly related to a Sustainable Development Goal.
