

TSUKUI Akibi

Fellow, Institute for Global Environmental Strategies

Nationality

Japanese

Career History

Akibi TSUKUI is a Fellow at the Climate and Energy Unit of the Institute for Global Environmental Strategies (IGES). Her primary focus revolves around conducting research and activities related to international regimes, with a particular focus on the global stocktake and Article 6 of the Paris Agreement. As a member of the Japan delegation for the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change, she takes part in negotiations on the global stocktake. Furthermore, she is the lead manager for the capacity-building programme under the Joint Crediting Mechanism (JCM), contributing to the implementation of Article 6.

She holds an M.Sc. in international development from the University of Manchester.

Areas of expertise

Global Stocktake, Article 6 and Carbon Market, Climate Policy, Non-State Actors Engagement